

ADDICTION SPECIALTY JOURNALS: A RESOURCE LISTING FOR AUTHORS

NOTE 1: This appendix provides detailed information about the journals listed in Tables 2.1 and 2.2 of Chapter 2 ('How to Choose a Journal'). It is designed to help authors find the most appropriate journal for their articles. After reviewing the information in the tables, read the mission statement to determine whether the journal seems appropriate (Note: these statements have been abstracted from the information provided by the journals and their editors). It will also be helpful to consult the journal's website (if available) and consider whether the abstracting/indexing services that are listed for that journal will reach the paper's intended audience. Once you have decided on the journal, read carefully the 'Notes on Submissions' and if possible obtain a copy of a recent issue of the journal. Please note that the information listed in this appendix is subject to change. We have made every effort to verify its accuracy, but some journals inevitably will change editors, publishers, and websites unexpectedly. The order of the journal listing follows the organization of the chapter, with English language journals listed first (in alphabetical order) and non-English language journals second. The editors want to thank all the people who helped to provide information for the tables and this appendix. Special thanks are due to Dominique Morisano, who was primarily responsible for compiling this information. The editors apologize for any inaccuracies that may have resulted from the laborious process of identifying and documenting addiction specialty journals. Additions and corrections would be gratefully appreciated so that future versions of this list can be improved for the benefit of both authors and journal editors.

NAME OF JOURNAL: ADDICTION RESEARCH AND THEORY

COUNTRY OF PUBLICATION: United Kingdom

YEAR ESTABLISHED: 1993

SPONSORSHIP/ORGANIZATIONAL AFFILIATION: N/A

PUBLISHER: Brunner-Routledge (Part of Taylor & Francis Group)

NAME(S) OF EDITOR(S)-IN-CHIEF: John B. Davis and Ernest Drucker

MISSION STATEMENT: Addiction Research and Theory is a refereed, cross-disciplinary journal examining the effects of context on the use and misuse of substances, and on the nature of intoxications of all kinds. It aims to provide an outlet for the growing body of theory and related research which sees 'addicted' behaviour of all types as arising from the social context within which it takes place, rather than as an inevitable manifestation of biological mechanisms or pharmacology. It publishes research that is primarily psychological and social in origin, though these terms are used in a very broad sense. Contributions are welcomed from the disciplines of anthropology, economics, sociology, social psychology, social and economic history, and any other area illustrating the relationship between context and the variable nature of those behaviours described as 'addicted'. The range of covered areas will include the substance-based addictions as well as problems not involving psychoactive agents, such as gambling, sexual behaviour, and eating disorders.

NOTES ON SUBMISSIONS: See website for detailed instructions. Three double-spaced copies of each manuscript should be submitted to the appropriate editor: (North and South America and the Far East) Ernest Drucker, Montefiore Medical Centre, Albert Einstein College of Medicine, Bronx, New York 10467-2490, U.S.A.; (United Kingdom, Europe, Scandinavia, Australia and New Zealand) John B. Davies, Addiction Research Group, Department of Psychology, University of Strathclyde, Glasgow G1 1RD, UK. Emails: chhs42@pop-hub.strath.ac.uk (Davies) and emdrucker@earthlink.net (Drucker). References should be indicated in the text by the name and date system.

NAME OF JOURNAL: ADDICTIVE BEHAVIORS

COUNTRY OF PUBLICATION: The Netherlands

YEAR ESTABLISHED: 1974

SPONSORSHIP/ORGANIZATIONAL AFFILIATION: N/A

PUBLISHER: Pergamon (Subsidiary of Elsevier Science Ltd.)

NAME(S) OF EDITOR(S)-IN-CHIEF: Peter M. Miller

MISSION STATEMENT: Addictive Behaviors is an international scientific journal publishing research on substance abuse. The journal specifically focuses on studies related to the abuse of alcohol, drugs, and nicotine. Articles represent interdisciplinary endeavors with research in such fields as psychology, psychiatry, epidemiology, medicine, pharmacology, and neuroscience. While theoretical orientations are diverse, the emphasis of the journal is primarily empirical. That is, sound experimental design combined with valid, reliable assessment and evaluation procedures are a requisite for acceptance. Uncontrolled clinical demonstrations and case studies are not accepted for publication. Priority is given to research that evaluates behavioural and/or pharmacological treatment or prevention interventions. In addition, studies of the functional relationships between substance use and any one of a combination of social, emotional, cognitive, environmental, and attitudinal factors are encouraged. Studies that clearly contribute to current knowledge of the etiology, prevention, and/or treatment of substance abuse are given priority. Research on the epidemiology of substance use is also published as well as a limited number of reviews.

NOTES ON SUBMISSIONS: Instructions to authors are included in each issue of the journal. Manuscripts must adhere to the instructions on references, preparation of tables and figures, abstracts, and manuscripts format as described in the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (5th ed.). All manuscripts must be submitted online via the Elsevier Author Gateway page at <http://www.elsevier.com/submit/addbeh>. Authors, reviewers, and editors send and receive all correspondence by email and no paper correspondence is necessary. Detailed information about this electronic submission process and specific instructions on how to submit manuscripts can be found at the Author Gateway page. Problems encountered while submitting online can be resolved by emailing authorsupport@elsevier.com. Questions about the appropriateness of a manuscript for Addictive Behaviors should be directed (prior to submission) to the Editor-in-Chief, Dr. Peter Miller (Medical University of South Carolina), at millerpm@musc.edu. Tel: 843 792 5547; Fax: 843 792 7353.

NAME OF JOURNAL: ADDICTIVE DISORDERS AND THEIR TREATMENT

COUNTRY OF PUBLICATION: United States

YEAR ESTABLISHED: 2002

SPONSORSHIP/ORGANIZATIONAL AFFILIATION: N/A

PUBLISHER: Lippincott Williams & Wilkins

NAME(S) OF EDITOR(S)-IN-CHIEF: Pedro Ruiz

MISSION STATEMENT: Addictive Disorders and Their Treatment publishes original, clinically relevant research papers, in-depth reviews, novel case reports, and book reviews. Basic research papers should have clear clinical implications and relevance. Submitted papers undergo full peer review. This journal is devoted to practical clinical research and treatment issues related to the misuse of alcohol and licit and illicit drugs and the study and treatment of addictive disorders and related behaviours. The journal's broad-spectrum, patient-oriented coverage of all aspects of addiction is appropriate for psychiatrists, clinical psychologists, psychopharmacologists, and primary care practitioners.

NOTES ON SUBMISSIONS: See website for further details. Articles must be original contributions. Pattern manuscript style after the American Medical Association Manual of Style (9th edition). Double-space all copies, including legends, footnotes, tables, and references, and print on one side of the sheet only. Submit manuscripts in English electronically (either on diskette or via email) as well as a hard copy in triplicate (one original and two copies) on standard 8½ x 11-inch (21 x 28-cm) paper with at least a 1-inch (2.5-cm) margin on all sides. Send submissions to: Julie Porter, Managing Editor, Addictive Disorders and Their Treatment, 9312 Fernwood Ct, Littleton, CO 80126 USA. Email: julieporter@kingfisherranch.com. Tel: (303) 978 9054; Fax: (303) 978 9037. Editor's email: pedro.ruiz@uth.tmc.edu. Tel: 713-500-2799; Fax: 713-500-2757.

NAME OF JOURNAL: AFRICAN JOURNAL OF DRUG AND ALCOHOL STUDIES

COUNTRY OF PUBLICATION: Nigeria

YEAR ESTABLISHED: 2000

SPONSORSHIP/ORGANIZATIONAL AFFILIATION: Centre for Research and Information on Substance Abuse (CRISA; Jos, Nigeria)

PUBLISHER: Centre for Research and Information on Substance Abuse (CRISA; Jos, Nigeria)

NAME(S) OF EDITOR(S)-IN-CHIEF: Isidore Silas Obot

MISSION STATEMENT: The journal publishes original research, evaluation studies, case reports, review articles, and book reviews of high academic standards. Papers submitted for publication may address any aspects of substance abuse in Africa, including epidemiology, prevention, treatment, psychopharmacology, health and socio-economic issues, drug trafficking, and drug law and policy.

The term 'substance' covers all psychotropic and addictive drugs (e.g., alcohol, tobacco, cannabis, heroin) and traditional substances used in different parts of Africa (e.g., kolanuts and khat). The journal is particularly interested in manuscripts that report an association between substance use and other social and health-related problems, e.g., HIV/AIDS, crime and violence, injury, accidents, and cardiovascular disorders. All researchers working on any topic in the substance abuse and other health behaviour fields with relevance to Africa are invited to send in their articles for publication. Established researchers wishing to edit special issues focusing on a particular theme or issue are invited to submit proposals.

NOTES ON SUBMISSIONS: Papers submitted for publication should follow the recommendations of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (5th ed.). Manuscripts should be limited to 20 double-spaced pages and submitted by the fastest means possible, preferably by email. Authors may be required to submit disk copies of accepted papers. More information about the submission of proposals for special issues of the journal can be obtained from the Editor-in-Chief. Submissions in hard copy should be addressed to: Isidore Silas Obot, Editor-in-Chief, African Journal of Drug and Alcohol Studies, 10 Sandview Ct, Baltimore, MD 21209, USA. Tel: (1-410) 602-1614. Address in Africa: African Journal of Drug and Alcohol Studies, CRISA, P.O. Box 10331, Jos, Nigeria. Tel: 234-803-597-2747. Editor's email: isobot@hotmail.com or crisainfo@yahoo.com

NAME OF JOURNAL: ALCOHOL AND ALCOHOLISM

COUNTRY OF PUBLICATION: United Kingdom

YEAR ESTABLISHED: 1965

SPONSORSHIP/ORGANIZATIONAL AFFILIATION: The Medical Council on Alcohol (MCA), European Society for Biomedical Research on Alcoholism (ESBRA)

PUBLISHER: Oxford University Press

NAME(S) OF EDITOR(S)-IN-CHIEF: Jonathan D. Chick (MCA) and Philippe de Witte (ESBRA)

MISSION STATEMENT: Alcohol and Alcoholism publishes papers on biomedical, psychological, and sociological aspects of alcoholism and alcohol research, provided that they make a new and significant contribution to knowledge. Papers may include new results obtained experimentally, descriptions of new experimental (including clinical) methods of importance to the field of alcohol research and treatment, or new interpretations of existing results. Theoretical contributions will be considered provided they are not of a largely speculative or philosophical nature.

NOTES ON SUBMISSIONS: See detailed Instructions to Authors on website. The size of a full-length paper is restricted to 5000 words. Contributors should email their manuscript in Microsoft Word to either Chief Editor (Dr J. Chick or Professor P. De Witte) at: jchick@compuserve.com or dewitte@bani.ucl.ac.be. Only submissions by email in Word will be accepted unless exceptional circumstances prevail against using electronic methods of submission.

SPONSORSHIP/ORGANIZATIONAL AFFILIATION: US National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism

PUBLISHER: US National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism (NIAAA)

Name(s) of Editor(s)-in-Chief: Dianne M. Welsh

MISSION STATEMENT: This peer-reviewed journal presents current research findings and contains articles on the effects, prevention, and treatment of alcohol abuse and alcoholism. Alcohol Research and Health covers the latest alcohol research findings in diverse fields, including treatment and prevention, epidemiology, genetics, and cellular biology.

NOTES ON SUBMISSIONS: NIAAA invites authors to submit manuscripts to Alcohol Research and Health on a particular topic. NIAAA does not accept unsolicited manuscripts. The selection process for invited articles is as follows: NIAAA has established an Editorial Advisory Board that meets annually and recommends topics for future issues. NIAAA then selects the final topics and invites authors to submit articles on a particular topic. Authors first submit an outline that is reviewed and approved by Institute staff before authors write the article. Each article is then reviewed by two researchers with expertise in the subject matter. Managing Editor's email: dmiller@willco.niaaa.nih.gov (Diane Miller). COUNTRY OF PUBLICATION: United States

SPONSORSHIP/ORGANIZATIONAL AFFILIATION: N/A

PUBLISHER: Elsevier Inc.

NAME(S) OF EDITOR(S)-IN-CHIEF: Thomas R. Jerrells

MISSION STATEMENT: Alcohol - An International Biomedical Journal publishes original reports of new and systematic studies in various fields of alcohol research. All aspects of alcohol's biological action are covered, including anatomy, biochemistry, cell biology, physiology, pharmacology, toxicology, behaviour, social anthropology, and clinical problems. Directed to both practitioners and basic scientists, Alcohol is an international journal devoted solely to biomedical research on alcohol and alcoholism. Topics include biomedical factors in the etiology of alcoholism and the pathologic effects of uncontrolled drinking; biological and biochemical markers in identification of alcoholism; new drugs and chemotherapeutic strategies in treatment of uncontrolled drinking; alcohol withdrawal; and psychological and biological problems associated with fetal alcohol syndrome. Alcohol accepts five types of manuscripts: original research articles, review articles, theoretical articles, brief communications, and rapid communications. A limited number of pertinent literature reviews and theoretical articles, results of symposia, abstracts and proceedings of meetings, and more comprehensive studies may be published as special issues of, or supplements to, the journal. All submissions to Alcohol are subject to standard peer-review and final approval by the Editors.

NOTES ON SUBMISSIONS: Authors are invited to submit manuscripts (complete in all respects) to the Editor-in-Chief: Thomas R. NAME OF JOURNAL: CONTEMPORARY DRUG PROBLEMS

COUNTRY OF PUBLICATION: United States

YEAR ESTABLISHED: 1971

SPONSORSHIP/ORGANIZATIONAL AFFILIATION: N/A

PUBLISHER: Federal Legal Publications

NAME(S) OF EDITOR(S)-IN-CHIEF: Robin Room

MISSION STATEMENT: Contemporary Drug Problems is a refereed scholarly journal. Its orientation is multidisciplinary and international; it is open to any research paper that contributes to social and epidemiological knowledge concerning drug use and problems. In particular, the journal welcomes studies for which publication outlets are scanty, including policy and legal analyses, historical research, and qualitative analyses. Likewise, its book reviews are often of less commonly reviewed books. The journal is designed to provide practical guidance to attorneys, educators, social workers, administrators, sociologists, and doctors. Subject areas include alcohol and all other psychoactive drugs, licit and illicit.

NOTES ON SUBMISSIONS: One original and two copies should be sent to the Editor; email submission in WordPerfect or Word is also acceptable. An informative abstract of up to 150 words and up to 6 indexing keywords should be included. All textual material, including quotations, references and endnotes, should be double-spaced. Tables, charts and graphs—each on a separate sheet of paper—should be in camera-ready form. A full reference should be given for each citation, in a style that is consistent throughout the paper. Two main styles of referencing are encouraged: social science style, with author name/year of publication in the text and references at the end alphabetically by author; and legal style, with a superscript number in the text referring to a numbered endnote, and with references in the endnotes. A combination of endnotes and references arranged alphabetically by author is also acceptable. Manuscripts should be sent to: Robin Room, Editor, Contemporary Drug Problems, Centre for Social Research on Alcohol and Drugs, Sveaplan, Stockholm University, S-106 91, Stockholm, Sweden (Robin.Room@sorad.su.se). Style sheets and other pertinent information are available from the Editor. Books for review should be sent to the Book Review Editor: Jim Baumohl, Graduate School of Social Work and Social Research, Bryn Mawr College, 300 Airdale Road, Bryn Mawr, PA, 19010.

NAME OF JOURNAL: DRUG AND ALCOHOL DEPENDENCE ('AN INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL ON BIOMEDICAL AND PSYCHOSOCIAL APPROACHES')

COUNTRY OF PUBLICATION: Netherlands

YEAR ESTABLISHED: 1975

SPONSORSHIP/ORGANIZATIONAL AFFILIATION: The College on Problems of Drug Dependence

PUBLISHER: Elsevier Ltd.

NAME(S) OF EDITOR(S)-IN-CHIEF: Robert L. Balster and Ian Stolerman

MISSION STATEMENT: Drug and Alcohol Dependence is an international journal devoted to publishing original research, scholarly reviews, commentaries, and policy analyses in the areas of drug, alcohol and tobacco use and dependence.

Articles range from studies of the chemistry of substances of abuse, their actions at molecular and cellular sites, in vitro and in vivo investigations of their biochemical, pharmacological and behavioural actions, laboratory-based and clinical research in humans, substance abuse treatment and prevention research, and studies employing methods from epidemiology, sociology, and economics. The goals of the journal are to provide researchers, clinicians, and policy makers access to material from all perspectives and to facilitate the transfer of scientific findings to successful treatment and prevention practices. The journal publishes full-length original research articles, short communications, reviews, and commentaries.

NOTES ON SUBMISSIONS: Instructions to authors are included in each issue of the journal (as well as on the publisher's website given below). Consult a recent issue of the journal for examples of journal style. Drug and Alcohol Dependence now operates online via an electronic submission system.

Mail submissions are no longer accepted. Access the online submission system through the Author Gateway, <http://authors.elsevier.com/journal/drugalcdep>. All correspondence, including the Editor's decision and request for revisions, will be processed through the system and will reach the corresponding author by email. Authors may send queries concerning the submission process or journal procedures to the Editorial Offices at dad@vcu.edu (for North, South and Central American authors) or dad@iop.kcl.ac.uk (all other authors). For further details on how to submit online, please refer to the EES Tutorial for authors, available on <http://www.ees.elsevier.com/dad/> or contact Elsevier's Author Support Department via the Author Gateway. Upon request, Elsevier will provide Japanese authors with a list of people who can check and improve the English of their paper (before submission, contact: Elsevier Japan, 4F Higashi-Azabu, 1-Chome Bldg, 1-9-15 Higashi-Azabu, Minato-ku, Tokyo 106-0044, Japan, Phone: (03)-5561-5032; Fax: (03)-5561-5045; email: jp.info@elsevier.com).

NAME(S) OF EDITOR(S)-IN-CHIEF: Gary Hayes

MISSION STATEMENT: Drugs and Alcohol Today is a quarterly journal that has a practical approach to the problems associated with alcohol and drug use. The journal aims to be a first reference point for those professionals having face-to-face contact with the individual experiencing harmful consequences of their substance abuse. The journal features findings from the latest, peer-reviewed papers and encourages open debate and expression around issues of policy and professional practice. For the professional working in residential settings, inpatient settings, community settings, and forensic services, the journal addresses issues of quality and importance, by identifying new opportunities, initiatives and concepts that can be incorporated into everyday practice. Note: Articles published in Drugs and Alcohol Today are not formally peer-reviewed, although articles are reviewed by members of the Editorial Board prior to publication.

PUBLISHER: Brunner-Routledge Publishers (part of the Taylor & Francis Group)

NAME(S) OF EDITOR(S)-IN-CHIEF: Betsy Thom

MISSION STATEMENT: Drugs: Education, Prevention and Policy aims to provide a forum for communication and debate between policy makers, practitioners and researchers concerned with social and health policy responses to legal and illicit drug use and drug-related harm. The journal publishes multidisciplinary research papers, commentaries and reviews on policy, prevention, and harm reduction issues regarding the use and misuse of alcohol, tobacco and other drugs. It is journal policy to encourage submissions that reflect different cultural, historical, and theoretical approaches to the development of policy and practice. The Editor welcomes contributions based on original research, policy discussion, evaluations of policy and practice, literature reviews, and papers which examine historical and cultural aspects of substance use and social responses to use and problematic use.

Short contributions are also welcome for two new sections in the journal: Policy News provides information and discussion on current policy developments and issues of national or international importance in prevention or harm reduction; Conference Reports is intended to provide brief accounts of the themes and outcomes from national or international conferences.

NOTES ON SUBMISSIONS: For detailed instructions, see 'Instructions for Authors' at the journal's web address (below). Manuscripts should be between 3000-5000 words. Shorter papers are also acceptable and may be published more rapidly. Four complete double-spaced copies should be sent to the journal administrator, Hannah Desouza, Drugs: Education, Prevention and Policy, School of Social Science, Middlesex University, Queensway, Enfield EN3 4SF, UK. YEAR ESTABLISHED: 1995

PUBLISHER: S. Karger AG (Basel)

NAME(S) OF EDITOR(S)-IN-CHIEF: Michael Krausz and Ambros Uchtenhagen

MISSION STATEMENT: European Addiction Research is an international forum for the exchange of interdisciplinary information and expert opinions on all aspects of addiction research. The journal's broad scope and cross-cultural perspective reflect the importance of a comprehensive approach to resolving the problems of substance abuse and addiction in Europe. Coverage ranges from clinical and research advances in the fields of psychiatry, biology, pharmacology, and epidemiology to the social and legal implications of policy decisions. The goal is to facilitate open discussion among those interested in the scientific and clinical aspects of prevention, diagnosis, and therapy as well as in legal issues. Journal issues have a strong thematic focus and a balance of original papers and reviews. The editors of European Addiction Research dedicate part of each issue to a special subject of addiction research. These 'Special Topic Sections' are announced in advance so that papers can be submitted accordingly. Unrequested contributions are also welcome. In case they do not fit any of the 'Special Topic Sections', they will appear as independent research reports.

NOTES ON SUBMISSIONS: Only original papers written in English will be considered. The manuscript should preferably be submitted electronically (see Guidelines at <http://content.karger.com/services/discsub.asp>). Otherwise, manuscripts should be submitted in triplicate together with a copy on disk. The manuscript should match the electronic file exactly. Contributions should be sent to the Managing Editor: Dr. Christian Haasen, Universitätsklinikum Hamburg-Eppendorf, Zentrum für Interdisziplinäre Suchtforschung, Klinik für Psychiatrie, Martinistrasse 52, D-20246 Hamburg (Germany), Fax +49 40 42803 2999. NAME OF JOURNAL: EXPERIMENTAL AND CLINICAL PSYCHOPHARMACOLOGY

YEAR ESTABLISHED: 1993

SPONSORSHIP/ORGANIZATIONAL AFFILIATION: American Psychological Association

PUBLISHER: American Psychological Association

NAME(S) OF EDITOR(S)-IN-CHIEF: Warren K. Bickel (Nancy K. Mello will take over as Editor starting in 2005)

MISSION STATEMENT: Experimental and Clinical Psychopharmacology seeks to promote the discipline of psychopharmacology in its fullest diversity.

Psychopharmacological agents include drugs, medications, and chemicals encountered in the workplace or environment. One goal of the journal is to foster basic research and the development of theory in psychopharmacology. Another is to encourage the integration of basic and applied research, the development of better treatments for drug abuse, and more effective pharmacotherapeutics. To this end, the journal publishes original empirical research involving animals or humans that spans (a) behavioural pharmacology research on social, behavioural, cognitive, emotional, physiological, and neurochemical toxicity; (b) descriptive and experimental studies of drug abuse, including its etiology, progression, adverse effects, and behavioural and pharmacological treatment; and (c) controlled clinical trials that, in addition to improving the effectiveness, range, or depth of application, will increase our understanding of psychological functions or their drug modulation. The journal also publishes theoretical and integrative analyses and reviews. In addition to original reports and reviews, the journal also publishes papers in two other sections. The first, 'Innovations,' is an occasional section that highlights papers that establish a novel method, a novel result, a novel measure, or a new theory. The second, 'Remarks,' is for brief commentary about important aspects of the field that have not been previously addressed or considered. Remarks could address either empirical or theoretical issues. Remarks are expected to be erudite, integrative, substantive, and thoughtful. Although case studies are not appropriate, occasional small sample experiments with special populations may be considered. The journal is intended to be informative and useful to both basic and applied researchers and to practitioners operating in varied settings.

NOTES ON SUBMISSIONS: Instructions for submissions (in detail) on website below.

Manuscripts should be submitted in quintuplicate according to the style described in the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (5th ed.).

Manuscripts should be sent to: Warren K. Bickel, Editor, Experimental and Clinical Psychopharmacology, Human Behavioural Pharmacology Lab, University of Vermont, Ira Allen School, 38 Fletcher Place, Burlington, VT 05401-1419. Editor's email: warren.bickel@uvm.edu. Effective 1 January 2005, manuscript submissions to Experimental and Clinical Psychopharmacology should be submitted electronically through the Manuscript Submission Portal. General correspondence may be directed to Nancy K. Mello, PhD, Experimental and Clinical Psychopharmacology, McLean Hospital, Massachusetts General Hospital, Harvard Medical School, 115 Mill Street, Belmont, MA, 02478-9106 (email: nmello@mclean.harvard.edu).

SPONSORSHIP/ORGANIZATIONAL AFFILIATION: N/A

PUBLISHER: Routledge Publishing (part of the Taylor and Francis Group)

NAME(S) OF EDITOR(S)-IN-CHIEF: Jan McMillen

MISSION STATEMENT: International Gambling Studies is a peer-reviewed interdisciplinary journal that has a transnational and comparative approach to the challenges posed by the global expansion of gambling. International Gambling Studies seeks to be a leading voice for analysis and research in gambling studies, presenting work on the theory, methods, practice and history of gambling. The journal encourages the application of perspectives from all social sciences including sociology, psychology, anthropology, statistics, economics, education, history, law, political science, community studies, management, industrial relations, leisure and tourism studies. In addition to original articles, International Gambling Studies features a forum section that contains review essays, symposia, and debates. This section will encourage scholarly debate, publishing reader's responses to individual articles, short opinion pieces, and conference information.

NOTES ON SUBMISSIONS: Authors can submit electronically as an email attachment (Microsoft Word document) to the Editor (see email below). For authors without access to email, submit three hard copies of the manuscript with a disk version using Microsoft Word for Windows to: Professor Jan McMillen, Director, Gambling Research Centre, RegNet, Research School of Social Sciences, Australian National University, Canberra ACT 0200, Australia. Authors are given instructions on the journal's style guide. Editor's email: jan.mcmillen@anu.edu.au. If Word for Windows (IBM compatible) file is not used then a Rich Text File (.rtf) is appropriate. (Authors are responsible for this). NAME OF JOURNAL: INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL OF DRUG TESTING

YEAR ESTABLISHED: 1995

SPONSORSHIP/ORGANIZATIONAL AFFILIATION: N/A

PUBLISHER: Self-published on the Internet

NAME(S) OF EDITOR(S)-IN-CHIEF: Tom Mieczkowski

MISSION STATEMENT: This multidisciplinary, refereed journal is devoted to the publication of scientific research, technical applications, policy studies, and other articles pertinent to the use of various biological specimens for evaluating exposure to psychoactive drugs. The journal has several areas of emphasis. One is the promotion of research devoted to new and emerging approaches to drug testing, such as hair, saliva, and sweat analysis. While papers devoted to more mature technologies (e.g., urine testing, or blood and plasma analysis) will be considered, the journal is particularly interested in innovative, experimental, and unconventional analytic matrices. The journal will also consider papers based on applications in various experimental, quasi-experimental, and field settings. 'Applications' are broadly defined and include drug testing for epidemiological research, implementation of novel techniques in forensic settings, the experimentation or use of these techniques in other legal, medical-therapeutic, and related areas. The journal also welcomes papers discussing policies, ethics, and other timely issues that are germane to the technologies, their applications, and the implications of their use. There is no cost of any type assessed to the journal readership. Any person with Internet access has access to the journal.

NOTES ON SUBMISSIONS: The journal requires citations and references to be in the style of the American Psychological Association (see Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 5th ed.). The journal requires manuscripts to be submitted in English, although the journal will also post articles that have been accepted for publication in any other language requested by the author, provided the author furnishes a suitable translation. Authors must submit their material in electronic format on a 3.5" IBM compatible disk. The journal can accept publications in the following formats: WordPerfect, Microsoft Word, AmiPro/WordPro. Since the journal is in electronic format, certain innovative capabilities are possible, such as sound, animation, or direct provision of datafiles to readers. Any author contemplating using any of these features needs to contact the editors. Authors must submit only original material and simultaneous submissions are not acceptable. Manuscripts should be sent to: International Journal of Drug Testing, Editorial Office, University of South Florida, 140 Seventh Avenue South, St. Petersburg, Florida 33701, USA. The journal will also accept manuscripts sent via the Internet; they can be transmitted via standard FTP procedures (FTP files to <ftp://www.criminology.fsu.edu/uploads>). Alternately, authors can also send their manuscripts as email attachments to regular email messages. Authors are required to follow any FTP or email submission with a paper copy of the article via surface mail. Email submissions can be sent to mieczkow@chumal.cas.usf.edu as file attachments to a message alerting us to the desire to submit.

PUBLISHER: American Alcohol and Drug Information Foundation

NAME(S) OF EDITOR(S)-IN-CHIEF: Manoj Sharma

MISSION STATEMENT: The Journal of Alcohol and Drug Education serves as a forum for various educational philosophies and different points of view concerning alcohol and drugs. It reports teacher experience and experiments. It provides a reference for actual teaching materials, and a factual guide for prevention techniques and procedures. It also is concerned with new programs of education that are appropriate to the community, the church and the family.

The Journal of Alcohol and Drug Education encourages submission of reports of empirical studies, review articles (including meta-analyses), theoretical articles, methodological articles, and case studies pertaining to alcohol, tobacco, and other drugs. Educational and ecological intervention studies are especially encouraged.

NOTES ON SUBMISSIONS: Manuscripts must be prepared in accordance with the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (5th ed.).

YEAR ESTABLISHED: 1989

SPONSORSHIP/ORGANIZATIONAL AFFILIATION: N/A

PUBLISHER: Haworth Press, Inc.

NAME(S) OF EDITOR(S)-IN-CHIEF: Vincent B. Van Hasselt and Brad Donohue

MISSION STATEMENT: The Journal of Child and Adolescent Substance Abuse serves as an interdisciplinary forum for communication and dissemination of information to practitioners and researchers working with young people. The journal provides current, useful information regarding state-of-the-art approaches to the assessment, prevention, and treatment of adolescent substance abuse. In addition, clinical case reports and descriptions of new and innovative evaluation and treatment methods are encouraged. The primary focus is on the empirical study of child and adolescent substance abuse utilizing correlational, group comparisons, or experimental strategies. The journal publishes clinical and research reports from a broad range of disciplines: clinical and counseling psychology, psychiatry, family therapy, sociology, public health, rehabilitation, and social work. Also published in the journal are case studies that are of special clinical relevance or that describe innovative evaluation and intervention techniques, review articles, and theoretical discussions that contribute substantially to our understanding of child and adolescent substance abuse.

NAME OF JOURNAL: JOURNAL OF DUAL DIAGNOSIS (FORMERLY JOURNAL OF CHEMICAL DEPENDENCY TREATMENT)

COUNTRY OF PUBLICATION: United States

YEAR ESTABLISHED: 1987 (name change in 2004)

SPONSORSHIP/ORGANIZATIONAL AFFILIATION: N/A

PUBLISHER: The Haworth Press, Inc.

NAME(S) OF EDITOR(S)-IN-CHIEF: Peter F. Buckley

MISSION STATEMENT: The mission of the Journal of Dual Diagnosis is to examine the latest research on the co-occurrence of mental disorders and substance use disorders. Articles reflect current trends in research and practice in the areas of psychiatry, psychological medicine, basic sciences, social sciences and health services evaluation as well as case studies from treatment programs internationally. The intended audience includes clinicians, research neuroscientists, mental health services researchers, and health service administrators, as well as junior colleagues in training who are encouraged to contribute articles for publication. The journal publishes original scientific papers, brief research reports, clinical case reports, and review articles important to the clinical and therapeutic aspects of dual diagnosis. Each issue also features 'Best Practices', an account of an exemplary service provided by the lead clinician from a program and an account written by an individual recovering from co-occurring disorders. The aim of 'Best Practices' is to help readers better understand recovery principles, model clinical practices, and pertinent aspects of the complexity of dual diagnosis.

NOTES ON SUBMISSIONS: See journal website or contact Editorial Assistant for more detailed information. The journal accepts original data papers (which receive top priority), perspective articles, editorials, and clinical case reports. Editorial and review articles are usually invited. Manuscripts should be prepared in accordance with the guidelines of the International Committee of Medical Journal Editors (<http://www.icmje.org/>), and should be double-spaced (5-50 typed pages including references and abstract), in font style Times New Roman (size 12), with page numbers in the bottom right hand corner of all pages. The page following the title page should carry an abstract followed by a list of 3-10 keywords. Examples of reference style can be located at http://www.nlm.nih.gov/bsd/uniform_requirements.html. All case reports must have the patient's consent before an article can be published.

Electronic submissions via email attachment are the preferred mode for submission. Electronic submission of the manuscript and covering letter should be sent directly to the Editorial Assistant, Ms. Teresa Raley, at traley@mail.mcg.edu. If the author chooses to submit by regular mail, then four copies of the manuscript and covering letter should be sent to: Ms. Teresa Raley, Editorial Assistant, Journal of Dual Diagnosis, Department of Psychiatry, 1515 Pope Avenue, Augusta, GA 30912. PUBLISHER: Taylor & Francis Health Sciences

NAME(S) OF EDITOR(S)-IN-CHIEF: Richard Pates

MISSION STATEMENT: Journal of Substance Use is an international journal publishing peer-reviewed, refereed articles on issues relating to the use of legal and illegal substances. The journal aims to educate, inform, and act as a forum for health and social care professionals working with individuals and families with substance use problems. It also informs those undertaking research in substance use, developing substance abuse services, and developing education and training programs. Journal of Substance Use provides a forum for the discussion of prevention, treatment and policy. Issues are examined from a variety of perspectives including clinical, managerial, service development, problem use, service use, and family. Papers may explore legal issues, therapeutic interventions and treatments, and behavioural approaches.

NOTES ON SUBMISSIONS: See <http://www.tandf.co.uk/journals/authors/tjsuauth.pdf> for detailed instructions. The submission of your manuscript on disk as well as in hard copy is encouraged. References should be Harvard style. Informal contact from new or inexperienced authors is welcomed.

Three copies of the manuscript, with photographs, other illustrations, and tables should be sent to: Richard Pates, Editor, Journal of Substance Use, House 56, Cardiff Royal Infirmary, Newport Road, Cardiff CF24 0SZ, UK. NAME OF JOURNAL: NICOTINE AND TOBACCO RESEARCH

YEAR ESTABLISHED: 1999

SPONSORSHIP/ORGANIZATIONAL AFFILIATION: Society for Research on Nicotine and Tobacco

PUBLISHER: Taylor & Francis Health Sciences

NAME(S) OF EDITOR(S)-IN-CHIEF: Gary E. Swan

MISSION STATEMENT: Nicotine and Tobacco Research provides a forum for empirical findings on the many aspects of nicotine and tobacco including research from the biobehavioural, neurophysiological, epidemiological, prevention, and treatment arenas. The journal encourages submissions that are integrative in nature and that may cross traditional disciplinary boundaries. A specific objective of the journal is to stimulate submissions that are multidisciplinary in nature. Submissions are sought that are technically competent, original, and that contain information or ideas of fresh interest to an international readership. The editors invite papers of all formats (full or brief reports of original work, reviews of the literature, commentaries, and/or editorials). Although the journal only accepts articles in English, it also publishes abstracts in French.

NOTES ON SUBMISSIONS: Submit your manuscript online at <http://www.ntrjournal.org/authors.html>. Five copies of manuscripts, figures, and tables and the electronic file(s) of each on a 3.5" diskette should be submitted. Each corresponding author is responsible for making sure that the manuscript conforms to guidelines detailed in the Author Checklist, available for download at www.ntrjournal.org.

A completed/signed copy of this checklist must accompany each submission. If you cannot access the website, please contact the Editor's office at email journalstaff@ntrjournal.org or by post to Gary E. Swan, Centre for Health Sciences, SRI International, 333 Ravenswood Ave., Menlo Park, CA 94025 USA.

NAME OF JOURNAL: SCIENCE AND PRACTICE PERSPECTIVES

COUNTRY OF PUBLICATION: United States

YEAR ESTABLISHED: 2002

SPONSORSHIP/ORGANIZATIONAL AFFILIATION: National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA), part of the National Institutes of Health, NIH)

PUBLISHER: National Institute on Drug Abuse, National Institutes of Health

NAME(S) OF EDITOR(S)-IN-CHIEF: David Anderson

MISSION STATEMENT: Science and Practice Perspectives aims to foster an ongoing creative exchange of ideas between drug abuse researchers and service providers. NIDA's hope is that collegial dialogue will lead to greater collaboration, to research that is attuned to providers' actual needs and problems, and to greater use of science-based treatment and prevention practices in community-based programs. In each issue of Perspectives, distinguished scientists review and interpret key research findings in areas of immediate relevance for practitioners, and highly accomplished providers discuss their experiences with implementing science-based programs and raise questions for research. Each article is followed by a roundtable discussion that extends the researcher-practitioner dialogue on the topic.

NOTES ON SUBMISSIONS: Reviews for publication in Perspectives are commissioned by the editor, but readers may submit brief letters proposing articles. Send letters to Managing Editor, Science and Practice Perspectives, Masimax Resources, Inc., Suite 175, 1375 Piccard Drive, Rockville, MD, 20850; Fax: 240-632-0519; Email: nidaperspectives@masimax.com

NAME OF JOURNAL: TOBACCO CONTROL

YEAR ESTABLISHED: 1992

SPONSORSHIP/ORGANIZATIONAL AFFILIATION: N/A

PUBLISHER: BMJ Publishing Group

NAME(S) OF EDITOR(S)-IN-CHIEF: Simon Chapman

MISSION STATEMENT: Tobacco Control aims to study: 1) the nature and consequences of tobacco use worldwide; 2) the effect of tobacco use on health, the economy, the environment and society; 3) the efforts of the health community and health advocates to prevent and control tobacco use; and 4) the activities of the tobacco industry and its allies to promote tobacco use. Tobacco Control provides a forum for research, analysis, commentary, and debate on policies, programs, and strategies that are likely to further the objectives of a comprehensive tobacco control policy. In papers submitted for review, the introduction should indicate why the research reported or issues discussed are important in terms of controlling tobacco use, and the discussion section should include an analysis of how the research reported contributes to tobacco control objectives. Papers firmly anchored to a strategic policy and programme context are more likely to be accepted for publication. The journal seeks to reach an international readership. Authors should consider whether their submission addresses issues or themes likely to be of interest to researchers working in other nations. Overly parochial issues, which contain few lessons for tobacco control policy outside a paper's local context, are unlikely to be given high priority.

NOTES ON SUBMISSIONS: Please see <http://tc.bmjournals.com/misc/ifora.shtml> for more information. Manuscripts should be prepared according to the Uniform Requirements for Manuscripts Submitted to Biomedical Journals (Vancouver agreement: BMJ 1991; 302: 338-41, New England Journal of Medicine 1991; 324: 42-8).

All manuscripts should now be submitted online via 'BenchPress' at: <http://submit-tc.bmjournals.com/>. PUBLISHER: Sdruzeni SCAN (this is an NGO)

NAME(S) OF EDITOR(S)-IN-CHIEF: Vladimir Rehan

MISSION STATEMENT: Adiktologie is a modern professional journal addressing issues relating to the prevention and treatment of, and research into, addictions. It is an interdisciplinary journal reflecting the areas of medicine, psychology, teaching, social policy, social work, sociology, political science, law, criminology and other areas. In addition to the printed form of the journal, the journal's website provides broader space for communication. Adiktologie reflects the development of the study of addiction as a separate discipline, a new branch of science with clearly designated boundaries. The journal is interested in articles on addiction to all types of legal and illegal drugs and also addictive behavioural disorders, such as addiction to gambling. The journal publishes editorials, original research articles, brief reports, articles related to education and practice, book reviews, and letters to the editor.

NOTES ON SUBMISSIONS: Detailed guidelines for prospective authors are on the website (in English and Czech). The editor's office accepts contributions both in Czech and English relating to the professional orientation of the journal. If the topic of an English language article relates to practice, the journal will negotiate with the author about translation into Czech (this is not the case with research articles). All articles (regardless of original language) must have an abstract and keywords in English. The contributions may be submitted as T602, Microsoft Word, and Microsoft Excel documents (any version). Contributions in any other formats will not be accepted. Contributions should be submitted to the following address: Redakce casopisu, Adiktologie, Sdruzení SCAN, Hanákova 710, 666 03 Tisnov, Czech Republic, Email: scan@tisnov.cz, Fax: ++420 549 413 534.

NAME OF JOURNAL: ALKOHOLIZM I NARKOMANIA ['ALCOHOL AND DRUG ABUSE']

COUNTRY OF PUBLICATION: Poland

YEAR ESTABLISHED: 1988; started as a quarterly in 1994

SPONSORSHIP/ORGANIZATIONAL AFFILIATION: State Agency for Solving Alcohol Related Problems and the National Bureau for Prevention of Drug Abuse

PUBLISHER: Institute of Psychiatry and Neurology

NAME(S) OF EDITOR(S)-IN-CHIEF: Boguslaw Habrat

MISSION STATEMENT: Alkoholizm i Narkomania has been published since 1988, on an irregular schedule at first, and since 1994 as a quarterly in a new layout and with a new graphical arrangement, bringing it up to higher standards required of scientific medical journals. It has an interdisciplinary character and publishes articles related to the problems of alcohol and other psychoactive substances of abuse (editorials, literature reviews, research reports, clinical experiences, conference reports). Many articles deal with specifically Polish alcohol and/or drug problems. The journal primarily serves the scientific and information needs of Polish scientists and practitioners in prevention or treatment. Alkoholizm i Narkomania gives authors the possibility to publish valuable papers in Polish. Some papers of foreign authors are also published in Polish. Free subscription is provided to all health care centres in Poland as well as to non-governmental organizations dealing with problems of dependence and to the libraries of medical academies.

NOTES ON SUBMISSIONS: All articles, except for conference reports, are submitted to peer-review. Manuscripts in Polish should be sent to: Alkoholizm I Narkomania, Department of Prevention and Treatment Studies of Substance Dependence, Institute of Psychiatry and Neurology, Sobieskiego Av. 9, 02 - 957, Warsaw, Poland; tel. (the Finnish State alcohol monopoly).

PUBLISHER: Stakes, Forsknings- och Utvecklingscentralen för Social- och Hälsovården (National Board of Health and Welfare, State Authority in Finland) in co-operation with the Nordic Council for Alcohol and Drug Research (NAD).

NAME(S) OF EDITOR(S)-IN-CHIEF: Kerstin Stenius

MISSION STATEMENT: NAT is a journal for social research on drugs and alcohol and for drug and alcohol policy in the Nordic countries. NAT seeks to strengthen the role of research in the field, nationally and in Scandinavia, and to stimulate contacts between research, decision makers, and the general public. The aim of the yearly English supplement is to disseminate Nordic research outside the Scandinavian language borders. Although the journal covers all addictions, it has an emphasis on alcohol and illicit drugs. The majority of the articles have Nordic country authors and present data from the Nordic society. However, NAT has also published articles, commentaries, and book reviews from non-Nordic countries, if the topic is interesting for a Nordic readership. NAT has a readership that includes researchers, alcohol and drug policy authorities, politicians, voluntary organizations, the treatment sector, the alcohol monopolies, and the media. NAT publishes research reports, commentaries, reviews, book reviews, conference reports, and Nordic alcohol statistics.

NOTES ON SUBMISSIONS: NAT prefers electronic submissions. Figures and tables should be in separate files, preferably Excel-files. For figures, raw data should be included. The length of original contributions should not exceed 35,000 characters. Reviews and commentaries may be between 10,000 and 20,000 characters, and book reviews around 6,000 characters. All research reports should have abstracts with keywords. NAT can provide help with language checking and with translations in certain cases (from several European languages). Manuscripts can be sent to kerstin.stenius@stakes.fi (Editor's email) or to nat@stakes.fi, or by mail with a diskette to Kerstin Stenius, Nordisk Alkohol- & Narkotikatidskrift, Stakes, Pl 220, Helsinki, FIN-00531, Finland; Telephone: +358-9-3967 2197; Telefax: +358-9-3967 2191.
